NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION OF DEFENDANT
GEORGE TYNDALL, M.D. TO DISMISS PLAINTIFF'S FIRST
AMENDED COMPLAINT;
MEMORANDUM OF POINT AND AUTHORITIES

[Local Rule 7-3 motion pre-filing requirement has been satisfied.]

Date: April 8, 2019
Time: 1:30 p.m.
Dept.: Courtroom 10A

Action Filed: November 9, 2018
Trial Date: None

TO THE ABOVE-ENTITLED COURT AND TO PLAINTIFF, JANE DOE,
THROUGH HER ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that on April 8, 2019, at 1:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard in Courtroom 10A of the above-entitled court, located at 350 West 1st Street, in Los Angeles, California, Defendant George Tyndall, M.D. (“defendant” or “Dr. Tyndall”), will move the Court, pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (FRCP), Rules 12(b)(6), for an order dismissing the First Amended Complaint (“FAC”) of Plaintiff Jane Doe (“plaintiff”), and each claim asserted

1 therein, on the grounds the FAC fails to state a claim upon which relief can be
 2 granted, and will move to dismiss and/or strike plaintiff's claim for punitive damages,
 3 pursuant to FRCP, Rule 12(f), for the following reasons:

4 MOTION TO DISMISS

5 1. Defendant moves to dismiss plaintiff's FAC in its entirety on the grounds
 6 that it demonstrates on its face that it is barred by the statute of limitations applicable
 7 to each claim, whether that be the one-year limitations period, Cal. Code of Civil
 8 Procedure § 340.5, the two-year limitations period, Cal. Code of Civil Procedure §
 9 335.1, the three-year limitations period, Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 338, or Cal.
 10 Civil Code § 54.2\(b\) (applicable to plaintiff's claim under Section 52.4 only). The 11 alleged conduct of which plaintiff complains occurred twenty-seven (27) years prior 12 to the filing of her original Complaint on November 9, 2018.

13 2. The First Claim for Violation of Title IX, 20 U.S.C. § 1681, is not 14 asserted against this moving defendant.

15 3. Defendant moves to dismiss the Second Claim for Violation of the Unruh
 16 Act, Cal. Civil Code § 51, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.
 17 In addition to the Second Claim being barred by the applicable statute of limitations,
 18 plaintiff has failed to allege facts showing she was denied her equal accommodations, 19 advantages, facilities, privileges, or services because of her gender as against this 20 defendant, Dr. Tyndall.

21 4. Defendant moves to dismiss the Third Claim for Sexual Harassment, Cal.
 22 Civil Code § 51.9, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. In 23 addition to the Third Claim being barred by the applicable statute of limitations, this 24 statute did not exist at the time of which plaintiff complains and, therefore, the statute
 25 provides no basis for relief. Plaintiff also does not complain of conduct by Dr.
 26 Tyndall which would have been actionable under the statute as it was originally 27 enacted.

28 5. Defendant moves to dismiss the Fourth Claim for Violation of the Bane

1 Act, Cal. Civil Code § 52.1, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be 2 granted. In addition to the Fourth Claim being barred by the applicable statute of 3 limitations, plaintiff does not complain of any interference of any civil right by means
4 of any threat, intimidation, or coercion, as required for liability to exist.

5 6. Defendant moves to dismiss the Fifth Claim for Gender Violence, Cal.
Civil Code § 52.4, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. In 7 addition to the Fifth Claim being barred by the applicable statute of limitations, this 8 statute did not exist at the time of which plaintiff complains and, therefore provides no
9 basis for relief. Plaintiff also does not complain of conduct by Dr. Tyndall which 10 would have been actionable under the statute as it was originally enacted.

11 7. Defendant moves to dismiss the Sixth Claim for Sexual Assault, for 12 failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. In addition to the Sixth
13 Claim being barred by the applicable statute of limitations, plaintiff fails to state facts
14 showing that Dr. Tyndall subjected her to any threat or apprehension of harmful or 15 offensive contact with her person.

16 8. Defendant moves to dismiss the Seventh Claim for Sexual Battery, for 17 failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. In addition to the Seventh
18 Claim being barred by the applicable statute of limitations, plaintiff fails to state facts
19 showing that Dr. Tyndall subjected her to any unconsented-to, offensive contact.

20 9. Defendant moves to dismiss the Eighth Claim for Constructive Fraud, for 21 failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. In addition to the Eighth
22 Claim being barred by the applicable statute of limitations, plaintiff fails to state facts
23 showing Dr. Tyndall engaged in any constructive fraud.

24 10. Plaintiff's Ninth Claim for Violation of the California Equity in Higher
25 Education Act, Cal. Education Code § 66270, is not asserted against his moving 26 defendant.

27 11. The Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth Claims for Negligence,
28 Negligence Per Se, Negligent Hiring; Supervision, and/or Retention; and Negligent

1 Failure to Warn, Train and/or Educate, are not asserted against this moving defendant.

2 12. Defendant moves to dismiss the Fourteenth Claim for Intentional
3 Infliction of Emotional Distress, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be 4 granted. In addition to the Fourteenth Claim being barred by the applicable statute of 5 limitations, plaintiff fails to state facts showing that Dr. Tyndall engaged in 6 sufficiently “outrageous conduct” with the intent to, or reckless disregard for, the 7 probability of causing plaintiff emotional distress and further fails to show plaintiff
8 suffered severe emotional distress as a result.

9 13. Defendant moves to dismiss the Fifteenth Claim for Negligent Infliction
10 of Emotional Distress on the grounds the Fifteenth Claim is barred by the applicable
11 statute of limitations.

12 14. Defendant moves to dismiss the Sixteenth Claim for Unfair Business 13 Practices. In addition to the Sixteenth Claim being barred by the applicable statute of 14 limitations, plaintiff fails to state facts showing that Dr. Tyndall engaged in any 15 business practice forbidden by law. Plaintiff has also failed to establish an economic 16 loss upon which standing to maintain this claim is required.

17 15. Defendant moves to dismiss plaintiff’s claims for punitive damages,
18 appearing at: page 24, line 17, page 25, line 22; page 27, lines 6 to 12; page 29, lines 8
19 to 14; page 45, lines 16 to 25; and prayer (e), on page 49, lines 25 to 27. This motion
20 will be made on the grounds that plaintiff’s claims against Dr. Tyndall are based 21 solely on state law and are before this court under supplemental jurisdiction. Pursuant 22 to Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 425.13, before pleading a claim for punitive 23 damages against a health care provider arising out of the provision of professional 24 services, a plaintiff must obtain leave of court. Section 425.13 applies in federal 25 court. Plaintiff did not seek or obtain leave as required by Section 425.13.

26 This motion is made following the conference of counsel pursuant to L.R.
27 7-3 which was completed on February 28, 2019.

28 The motion will be based on this Notice of Motion; the accompanying

1 Memorandum of Points and Authorities; the complete court file on record herein and 2 specifically plaintiffs' Complaint and FAC, of which the Court is requested to take 3 judicial notice; and upon such further oral and documentary evidence as may be 4 presented at the hearing.

3 I.

4 INTRODUCTION

5 George Tyndall, M.D. is a gynecologist formerly employed by the University
 6 of Southern California (USC) and provided medical services to students in the USC
 7 Student Health Center.

8 Plaintiff alleges that in 1991, twenty-seven (27) years ago, she underwent a 9 gynecological examination by Dr. Tyndall on a single occasion. During the 10 examination, Dr. Tyndall allegedly “felt her breasts, put his fingers inside her vagina 11 and anus, and aggressively moved first his fingers, and then a speculum¹ around inside
 12 her. She sensed that Dr. Tyndall’s examination was more about his own personal 13 enjoyment than anything helpful to her.” (FAC; ¶ 5, lines 1-6.) (footnote added). The 14 complaint further alleges that when plaintiff “told Dr. Tyndall that she was having 15 difficulty finding the string of her tampon, he remarked ‘You are such an idiot – don’t 16 you know it’s not a black hole? Haven’t you had sex before?’ and words to that 17 effect.” (FAC; ¶ 6, lines 7-9).

18 Based on those facts, plaintiff is asserting numerous intentional tort theories, 19 including sexual harassment, sexual assault and battery, gender violence and 20 intentional infliction of emotional distress.

21 All of plaintiff’s claims are barred by applicable statute of limitations, whether 22 they be subject to a one-year limitations period, Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 340.5,
 23 a two-year limitations period, Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 335.1, a three-year
 24 limitations period, Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 338 and Cal. Civil Code § 52.4(b)
 25 (as to the claim under Section 52.4 only), or four-year limitations period, Cal Business
 26 & Professions Code § 17208 (applicable only to the unfair competition claim). Where

27
 28 ¹A speculum is an instrument inserted into a body passage, especially to facilitate visual inspection or medication. See <https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/speculum>.

a complaint shows on its face that the claim would be barred without the benefit of the discovery rule it must specifically plead facts sufficient to show there was an inability to have made earlier discovery despite reasonable diligence that existed. Plaintiff has pled no such facts and it is inconceivable that she would be able to do so. Where an "awareness of a wrongful act" carries with it "awareness of harm," such as is the case with a claim for battery or intentional infliction of emotional distress, the discovery rule cannot apply.

Plaintiff's claims are also without merit for other reasons. Several of the claims are based on statutes that are inapplicable or did not exist at the time of which plaintiff complains and, thus, may provide no basis for relief, including her claims based on Cal. Civil Code § 51.9 and § 52.4. Plaintiff has also failed to plead facts showing liability beyond a speculative level. She has pled no fact which demonstrates that Dr. Tyndall's touching during the examination was in any way inappropriate or without her consent and has also failed to plead any facts which show Dr. Tyndall's alleged comments give rise to a claim for sexual harassment or intentional infliction of emotional distress. For these reasons, dismissal of plaintiff's FAC is appropriate.

Plaintiff was also required to, but did not obtain leave of court before pleading her claim for punitive damages based on a claim(s) arising out the provision of professional services pursuant to Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 425.13, which is applicable in federal court. Plaintiff's claim for punitive damages should, accordingly, be dismissed and/or stricken.

II.

A DEFENDANT MAY MOVE TO DISMISS A COMPLAINT FOR FAILURE TO STATE A CLAIM

A defendant may move to dismiss a complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief may be granted. Federal Rules of Civil Procedure \("FRCP"\), Rule 12\(b\)\(6\). A complaint may be dismissed as a matter of law for either lack of a

1 cognizable legal theory or for insufficient facts under a cognizable theory. Robertson

3 In ruling upon a motion under Rule 12\(b\)\(6\), the court must accept the 4 plaintiff's factual allegations as true, Steckman v. Hart Brewing, 143 F.3d 1293, 1295
 5 (9th Cir. 1998). This, however, does not automatically extend to bald assertions,

10 A COMPLAINT MUST ALLEGE FACTS SHOWING MORE THAN A MERE 11 POSSIBILITY THAT DEFENDANT ACTED UNLAWFULLY

12 While a complaint attacked by a Rule 12\(b\)\(6\) motion to dismiss does not need 13 detailed factual allegations, Id., a plaintiff's obligation to provide the "grounds" of his 14 "entitlement to relief" requires more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic
 15 recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do. Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly
 16 ("Twombly"), 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007). The allegations in the complaint "must be 17 enough to raise a right to relief above the speculative level -- a plaintiff must allege
 18 "enough facts to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face." Twombly, 550
 19 U.S. 544 at 570.

20 "The plausibility standard is not akin to a 'probability requirement,' but it asks 21 for more than a sheer possibility that a defendant has acted unlawfully." Ashcroft v.
 22 Iqbal ("Iqbal"), 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009); Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556. While the 24 accept as true a legal conclusion couched as a factual allegation." Iqbal, 556 U.S. at

IV.

PLAINTIFF'S CLAIMS ARE BARRED BY THE APPLICABLE
STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

A plaintiff must bring a cause of action within the applicable limitations period applicable after accrual of the cause of action. Cal. Code Civil Procedure § 312; Norgart v. Upjohn Co., 21 Cal.4th 383, 397 (1999).

Generally, a cause of action accrues "when, under the substantive law, the wrongful act is done," or the wrongful result occurs, and the consequent "liability arises." Norgart, supra, 21 Cal.4th at 397. Under the "discovery rule" exception to the general accrual rule, a cause of action is postponed until the plaintiff discovers or has reason to discover the cause of action. Id. Discovery is deemed made and the statute of limitations begins to accrue, when the plaintiff suspects a factual basis upon which to base the cause of action's elements – essentially "when the plaintiff suspects that someone has done something wrong"; 'wrong' being used, not in any technical sense, but rather in accordance with its 'lay understanding.'" Id., at 397-398 (emphasis added). Once the plaintiff has a suspicion of wrongdoing, and therefore an incentive to sue, she must go find the facts. She cannot wait for the facts to find her. Jolly v. Eli Lilly & Co., 44 Cal.3d 1103, 1111 (1988).

“Cause of action” in this context does not refer to a legal theory. Ignorance of a legal theory of recovery against a defendant is irrelevant for statute of limitations accrual purposes. Curtis v. Kellogg & Anderson, 73 Cal.App.4th 492, 501 (1999); Gutierrez v. Mofid, 39 Cal.3d 892, 898 (1985); see also Graham v. Hansen, 128 Cal.App.3d 965, 972 (1982) (“[t]he statute of limitations is not tolled by belated discovery of legal theories, as distinguished from belated discovery of facts.”). “Cause of action” refers to the nature of the injury and the primary right involved. Austin v. Medicis, 21 Cal.App.5th 577, 585 (2018); see also Winston Square HOA v. Centex W., 213 Cal.App.3d 282, 287 (1989) (it is the right or injury sought to be established, not the remedy or relief, which determines the nature and substance of a cause of action):

1 Crowley v. Katleman, 8 Cal.4th 666, 681-682 (1994) (the primary right is simply the 2 plaintiff's right to be free from the particular injury suffered, and not the legal theory
 3 on which liability for that injury is premised).

4 Where a complaint demonstrates on its face that the claim would be barred
 5 without the benefit of the discovery rule, as here, the complaint must plead facts
 6 which justify the statute's accrual due to an inability that existed which prevented
 7 earlier discovery despite reasonable diligence. Mangini v. Aerojet-General Corp., 230
 8 Cal.App.3d 1125, 1150 (1991); McKelvey v. Boeing North American, Inc., 74
 9 Cal.App.4th 151, 160 (1999).

10 As is set forth in the FAC, plaintiff was very much aware of the allegedly 11 inappropriate conduct and comments made on the part of Dr. Tyndall at the time they 12 occurred and, in fact, suspected wrongdoing -- that Dr. Tyndall's "examination was 13 more about his own personal enjoyment than anything helpful for her." FAC, ¶ 5.
 14 Plaintiff also alleges (repeatedly) that, as a result, she was caused "permanent and 15 continuing injur[ies]," including "great mental, physical and nervous pain, suffering,...
 16 and shock," Id., ¶¶ 68, 79, 91, 102, 116, 123, 150, 195, 202. Plaintiff alleges the 17 recent media disclosures of alleged improper conduct on the part of Dr. Tyndall
 18 caused "recurrences" of those injuries. Id., ¶¶ 7, 151. Suspicion of one or more 19 elements of a cause of action (i.e., wrongful conduct), coupled with knowledge of any 20 remaining element (i.e., injury) will trigger the limitations period. Grisham v. Philip
 21 Morris U.S.A., Inc., 40 Cal.4th 623, 634 (2007); Fox v. Ethicon Endo-Surgery, Inc., 35
 22 Cal.4th 797, 806-807 (2005). Plaintiff is not entitled to restart the clock because of 23 "recurrences" of injuries brought on by being reminded of same.

24 Also, where an "awareness of a wrongful act" carries with it "awareness of 25 harm" such as the case with claims for assault, battery, sexual harassment and 26 intentional infliction of emotional distress (IIED),² the discovery rule cannot apply.

28 ²To recover damages on an IIED claim, Plaintiff would have had to have suffered
 "emotional distress of such substantial quality or enduring quality that no reasonable

1 See DeRose v. Carswell, 196 Cal.App.3d 1011, 1018 \(1987\) (finding delayed
 2 discovery rule did not apply to claims for assault and battery and IIED); Sonbergh v.
 3 MacQuarrie, 112 Cal.App.2d 771, 772-774 \(1952\) (a battery or a cause of action for 4 negligently harming a person or a thing is complete, and the limitations period accrues 5 upon physical contact even though there is no observable damage at the time of 6 contact). The nature of plaintiff's claims against Dr. Tyndall are based on alleged 7 conduct of the type which necessarily carries with it an awareness of harm and 8 plaintiff's allegations show she had awareness of the alleged wrongful conduct and the 9 alleged harm she suffered as a result at the time the alleged conduct occurred. FAC,
 10 ¶¶ 5-6, 91, 105, 114-115, 118-122, 126, 189. Therefore, the accrual of the applicable
 11 limitations period(s) occurred at the time of the alleged wrongful conduct on the part 12 of Dr. Tyndall.

13 There can be no delayed discovery on the facts alleged. Even when a patient
 14 remains in the physician's care, there is no tolling where the patient's actual discovery 15 of the injury or a failure to discover occurred through lack of diligence on the 16 plaintiff's part. See Sanchez v. South Hoover Hospital, 18 Cal.3d 93, 97 (1976); Mock
 17 v. Santa Monica Hospital, 187 Cal.App.2d 57, 64 (1960); Hundley v. St. Francis
 18 Hospital, 161 Cal.App.2d 800, 806 (1958). Here, the plaintiff saw Dr. Tyndall and 19 suspected wrongdoing in 1991, twenty-seven years before her complaint was filed.

20 There can also be no tolling on the grounds of fraud or concealment. Young v.
 21 Haines, 41 Cal.3d 883, 901 (1986) (concealment will not toll the limitations period if 22 discovery has occurred); Reyes v. County of Los Angeles, 197 Cal.Ap.3d 584, 588, 23 594-595 (1988) (fraud and intentional concealment did not toll accrual of cause of 24 action after the date plaintiffs began looking through the yellow pages and contacted 25 an attorney, even though attorney told her that she did not have much of a case).
 26 Further, any claim of fraudulent concealment upon which tolling is predicated, must

27
 28 person in civilized society should be expected to endure it." Hughes v. Pair, 46 Cal.4th 1035, 1039-1040 \(2009\).

1 some active conduct by the defendant "above and beyond the wrongdoing upon which
 2 the plaintiff's claim is filed, [which prevented] the plaintiff from suing in time."

3 Lukovsky v. City and County of San Francisco, 535 F.3d 1044, 1052 (9th Cir. 2008);
 4 see also Mark K. v. Roman Catholic Archbishop, 67 Cal.App.4th 603, 613 (1998)
 5 (fraudulent concealment tolling may not be based on the contention that defendant
 6 failed to disclose that it had engaged in wrongdoing). All plaintiff alleges is that 7 defendants failed to disclose that they had engaged in any wrongdoing.

8 Any claim under Cal. Civil Code § 52.4, "shall be commenced within three 9 years of the act,..." Id., subd. (b). Section 52.4 does not recognize any tolling.
 10 Assuming plaintiff could maintain a claim under Section 52.4, her claim brought 27
 11 years after the alleged wrongful act is 24 years too late.

12 There exist several limitations periods potentially applicable to the remainder of 13 plaintiff's claims: Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 340.5, which requires a lawsuit to be 14 brought within three years after the date of injury or one year after the plaintiff 15 discovers, or through the use of reasonable diligence should have discovered, the 16 injury, whichever occurs first;³ Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 335.1, which generally 17 requires actions for assault, battery, or injury to, or for the death of, an individual
 18 caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another to be brought within two years; Cal.
 19 Code of Civil Procedure § 338, which requires an action for liability founded upon
 20 statute to be brought within three years,⁴ and Cal. Business & Professions Code §
 21 17208, which requires claims for unfair business practices under Section 17200 to be 22 brought within four years. The court need not resolve which of these limitations 23 periods are applicable, as even assuming the applicability of the longest period (four

25
 26 ³It is Dr. Tyndall's contention that Section 340.5 applies to all claims asserted
 27 against him, except the claim for Gender Violence pursuant to Cal. Civil Code § 52.4.

28 ⁴This statute of limitations has been held inapplicable to the civil rights statutes asserted herein by plaintiff. See, i.e., W. Shield Investigations & Sec. Consultants v.
Superior Court, 82 Cal.App.4th 935, 951-953 (2000) (as claims under Civil Code §§ 51.9 and 52.1 were rooted in common law, the personal injury limitations period was held to apply thereto).

1 years), plaintiff's complaint is still 23 years too late.

2 Because on the face of the FAC each of plaintiff's claims are clearly barred, this 3 motion to dismiss should be granted with prejudice.

5 PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE
6 GRANTED UNDER THE UNRUH ACT, CAL. CIVIL CODE § 51

7 In addition to being barred by the applicable limitations period, plaintiff fails to 8 state facts upon which relief may be granted under Cal. Civil Code § 51.

9 Cal. Civil Code § 51 guarantees equal accommodations, advantages, facilities,
10 privileges, or services in all business establishments, regardless of any protected class
11 to which she may belong, including gender. Id.; see also Koire v. Metro Car Wash, 40
12 Cal.3d 24, 28-30 \(1985\); The Act was enacted to 'create and preserve a 13 nondiscriminatory environment in business establishments, "by 'banishing' or 14 'eradicating' arbitrary, invidious discrimination by such establishments." Flowers v.
15 Prasad, 238 Cal.App.4th 930, 937 \(2015\); see also Marina Point, Ltd. v. Wolfson, 30
16 Cal.3d 721, 733 \(1982\) (the Unruh Civil Rights Act must properly be interpreted to 17 interdict all arbitrary discrimination by a business enterprise). Intentional 18 discrimination is required; an adverse impact on a particular group is insufficient.
19 Harris v. Capital Growth Investors XIV, 52 Cal.3d 1142, 1149, 1159-1162 \(1991\).

20 Plaintiff does not allege facts showing she was subjected to any unequal 21 treatment by Dr. Tyndall based on her gender – that she was denied services, 22 privileges, etc., to which others not in her protected class enjoyed. FAC, ¶¶ 1-6, 73-76.
23 It is noted that this claim appears to be directed primarily at USC, based on the 24 allegation that USC subjected plaintiff to discrimination by its failure to disclose that 25 Dr. Tyndall had been subjected to complaints of misconduct. Id., ¶¶ 67-74. While it is 26 possible to envision how that discriminatory treatment by USC might result if it
27 notified male patients to misconduct by USC-employed physicians, but intentionally 28 withheld such notification to female patients, plaintiff has not alleged facts showing

1 that USC received any complaints about Dr. Tyndall prior to plaintiff's contact with 2 him in 1991, which it could have disclosed. See Id., ¶¶ 11-35.

3 VI.

4 PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE
 5 GRANTED FOR SEXUAL HARASSMENT UNDER CAL. CIVIL CODE § 51.9

6 In addition to being barred by the applicable limitations period, plaintiff's claim
 7 brought pursuant to Cal. Civil Code § 51.9, is, on its face, without merit.

8 Cal. Civil Code § 51.9 was enacted in 1994, effective January 1, 1995, Stats
 9 Cal. 1994 SB 612. It did not exist at the time of which plaintiff complains and does
 10 not provide for retroactive application. Evangelatos v. Superior Court, 44 Cal.3d
 11 1188, 1209-1218 \(1988\) (in the absence of a specific provision in the legislation
 12 calling for retroactive application, the general presumption of prospective application
 13 applies). Section 51.9 provides no basis for relief based on conduct occurring in 1991,
 14 when plaintiff allegedly came into contact with Dr. Tyndall. Brown v. Smith, 55 Cal.
 15 App. 4th 767, 787-788 \(1997\) (holding Section 51.9, effective Jan. 1, 1995, did not 16 apply to conduct that took place in 1991).

17 Further, plaintiff does not allege conduct on the part of Dr. Tyndall which 18 would have been actionable under the statute as originally enacted -- sexual advances,
 19 solicitations, sexual requests, or demands for sexual compliance that were unwelcome 20 and persistent or severe, and continued after a request was made by the plaintiff to 21 stop. See Stats 1994 Cal. SB 612.

22 VII.

23 PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE
 24 GRANTED FOR VIOLATION OF THE BANE ACT, CIVIL CODE § 52.1

25 In addition to being barred by the applicable limitations period, plaintiff's claim
 26 brought pursuant to Cal. Civil Code § 52.1 is without merit. Cal. Civil Code § 52.1, 27 provides for liability when a person interferes by threats, intimidation, or coercion, or 28 attempts to interfere by threats, intimidation, or coercion, with the exercise or

1 enjoyment by any individual or individuals of rights secured by the Constitution or 2 laws of the United States or of the State of California. Id.

3 Section 52.1 requires an attempted or completed act of interference with a legal 4 right, accompanied by a form of coercion. City and County of San Francisco v.
 5 Ballard, 136 Cal.App.4th 381, 408 (2006); see also Venegas v. County of Los Angeles,
 6 32 Cal.4th 820, 843 (2004) (section 52.1 “provides remedies for ‘certain misconduct
 7 that interferes with’ federal or state laws, if accompanied by threats, intimidation, or 8 coercion”; emphasis added); Shoyoye v. County of Los Angeles, 203 Cal.App.4th 947, 9 959 (2012) (statutory or common law remedies are already available to redress
 10 interference with rights protected by state or federal constitutions or laws; Section 11 52.1 focuses specifically on the additional element – putting persons in fear of their 12 safety and it is that element that is being emphasized in Section 52.1).

13 For example, in Shoyoye, supra, 203 Cal.App.4th 947, a county prisoner brought 14 a claim under Section 52.1 alleging he was overly-detained for two weeks beyond the 15 date he should have been released from custody, which the prisoner claimed was in 16 violation of his constitutional right, despite his asking for assistance of jail employees.
 17 While the court recognized that being confined is coercive, that coercion was not 18 independent from the civil right violation – the wrongful detention, and, therefore, 19 was an insufficient basis for a Section 52.1 claim. Id., at 959-962; see also Lyall v.
 20 City of Los Angeles, 807 F.3d 1178, 1196 (9th Cir. 2015) (plaintiff in a search-and-
 21 seizure case must allege threats or coercion beyond the coercion inherent in a 22 detention or search in order to recover under the Bane Act).

23 Plaintiff does not allege that Dr. Tyndall tried to or prevented plaintiff from 24 exercising a civil right. Plaintiff alleges Dr. Tyndall violated her right by engaging in 25 the alleged sexual harassment. The latter does not give rise to a Bane Act claim.

VIII.

PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE GRANTED FOR GENDER VIOLENCE, CAL. CIVIL CODE § 52.4

In addition to being barred by the requirement that claims brought under Cal. Civil Code § 52.4 “shall be commenced within three years of the act,” Id., subd. \(b\), not 27 years after the alleged act, as is the case here, plaintiff’s claim under Section 52.4 is without merit for other reasons.

Cal. Civil Code § 52.4 was originally enacted in 2002, effective January 1, 2003, Stats 2002 Cal. SB 1928. It did not exist at the time of which plaintiff complains and does not provide for retroactive application. Evangelatos, supra, 44 Cal.3d at 1209-1218. Accordingly, Section 52.4 provides no basis for relief for conduct occurring at some unspecified time between the years 1990 and 1993.

Further, plaintiff does not allege conduct on the part of Dr. Tyndall which would have been actionable under the statute as originally enacted. Like Cal. Civil Code § 52.1, liability under Section 52.4, as originally enacted, and as it still exists today, requires a showing that either the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force or physical intrusion or invasion of a sexual nature under coercive conditions. Stats 2002 Cal. A.B. 1928. Plaintiff alleges no such coercive conditions occurred. Her claim under Section 52.4 is without merit and should be dismissed.

IX.

PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE GRANTED FOR SEXUAL ASSAULT

In addition to plaintiff's assault claim being barred by the applicable limitations statute(s), plaintiff has failed to plead facts upon which relief may be granted for sexual assault.

The elements of a cause of action for assault are: (1) the defendant acted with intent to cause harmful or offensive contact, or threatened to touch the plaintiff in a harmful or offensive manner; (2) the plaintiff reasonably believed he was about to be

1 touched in a harmful or offensive manner or it reasonably appeared to the plaintiff that 2 the defendant was about to carry out the threat; (3) the plaintiff did not consent to the 3 defendant's conduct; (4) the plaintiff was harmed; and (5) the defendant's conduct was 4 a substantial factor in causing the plaintiff's harm. So v. Shin, 212 Cal.App.4th 652,
 5 668-669 (2013); see also Plotnik v. Meihaus, 208 Cal.App.4th 1590, 1603-1604
 6 (2012) (action for assault is based upon an invasion of the right of a person to live 7 without being put in fear of personal harm).

8 Plaintiff does not plead facts showing Dr. Tyndall caused plaintiff to be or 9 become apprehensive of harmful or offensive contact with plaintiff's person. Plaintiff
 10 only alleges Dr. Tyndall performed an unnecessarily aggressive examination of 11 plaintiff's private parts and made an inappropriate comment. These alleged acts 12 cannot reasonably be interpreted as communicating any threat or intent to engage in 13 any harmful or offensive contact by Dr. Tyndall towards plaintiff.

14 In fact, it is not even clear that plaintiff has pled a battery, which requires an 15 offensive or harmful touching without the victim's consent. So, supra, 212 CalApp.4th
 16 at 669; Kaplan v. Mamelak, 162 Cal.App.4th 637, 645 (2008). It is recognized in both 17 state and federal courts that a “[a] doctor rendering gynecological care cannot render 18 the full panoply of gynecological services without touching, probing or otherwise
 19 manipulating a woman's genitalia.” Cooper v. Superior Court, 56 Cal.App.4th 744, 20 751 (1997); Connell v. United States, 2010 U.S.Dist.LEXIS 36957, *8. (E.D.Cal.
 21 2010). Plaintiff's alleged facts do not show that any touching done by Dr. Tyndall
 22 was not performed as part of a legitimate gynecological examination; nor do
 23 plaintiff's alleged facts show that the touching Dr. Tyndall did do, was inappropriate 24 or was performed without her consent. Plaintiff only alleges that she “sensed” that his 25 examination “was more about his own personal enjoyment than anything helpful to 26 her.” FAC, ¶ 5. These allegations are insufficient. To adequately plead a claim, 27 plaintiff must allege facts showing more than a mere “possibility that a defendant has 28 acted unlawfully.” Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678.

PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE GRANTED FOR SEXUAL BATTERY, CAL. CIVIL CODE § 1708.5

In addition to plaintiff's battery claim being barred by the applicable limitations, plaintiff has failed to plead facts upon which relief may be granted for sexual battery.

A person commits a sexual battery under Cal. Civil Code § 1708.5 when he “[a]cts with the intent to cause a harmful or offensive contact with an intimate part of another, and a sexually offensive contact with that person directly or indirectly results.” Id. “Intimate part” means the sexual organ, anus, groin, or buttocks of any person, or the breast of a female. Id., subd. \(d\). “Offensive contact” means contact that offends a reasonable sense of personal dignity. Id., subd. \(f\).

There are few decisions addressing Section 1708.5, and none has applied section 1708.5 to contact between a gynecologist and a patient in the course of an examination. By its very nature, however, a gynecological examination involves a touching of the patient's "intimate parts", as described in Section 1708.6. Cooper, supra, 56 Cal.App.4th at 751 ("[a] doctor rendering gynecological care, cannot render the full panoply of gynecological services without touching, probing or otherwise manipulating a woman's genitalia."); *Connell, supra, 2010 U.S. Dist.LEXIS 36957, 9 (E.D.Cal. 2010) (acknowledging and adopting observation in Cooper, in concluding the plaintiff had not shown that the gynecological services rendered were a guise or pretext allowing defendant to engage in sexual misconduct with her).

Battery in general requires an unconsented, harmful or offensive contact with the plaintiff's person, Ashcraft v. King, 228 Cal.App.3d 604, 611 (1991), and one who consents to an act is not wronged by it. Cal. Civil Code § 3515. In the context of a gynecologist, to constitute an "offensive contact," the plaintiff should be required to prove the contact was without consent, was not related to the gynecological examination and/or was performed for no purpose other than the physician's personal

1 gratification. Plaintiff's allegation that she "sensed" that Dr. Tyndall's examination
 2 "was more about his own personal enjoyment than anything helpful to her," FAC, ¶ 5,
 3 does not establish that Dr. Tyndall's touching was not related to his gynecological
 4 examination of her, or that it was inappropriate or offensive, and without her consent.

5 XI.

6 PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE 7 GRANTED FOR CONSTRUCTIVE FRAUD

8 In addition to being barred by the applicable limitations, plaintiff has failed to 9 plead facts upon which relief may be granted for constructive fraud.

10 The elements of a constructive fraud cause of action are (1) a fiduciary or 11 confidential relationship; (2) nondisclosure (breach of fiduciary duty); (3) intent to 12 deceive, and (4) reliance and resulting injury (causation). Younan v. Equifax Inc., 111
 13 Cal.App.3d 498, 516, fn. 14 (1980).

14 It is unclear upon what basis plaintiff is asserting this claim against Dr. Tyndall.
 15 Plaintiff's allegations of constructive fraud appear to be directed at USC: USC failed 16 to investigate complaints of alleged sexual misconduct against Dr. Tyndall; failed to 17 warn plaintiff of those complaints; and placed Dr. Tyndall in a position in which he 18 could abuse other patients in light of said complaints. FAC, ¶¶ 130-131. Even as to 19 USC, it does not appear from any facts alleged that constructive fraud occurred.
 20 Constructive fraud pertains to the failure to disclose material facts within the 21 knowledge of the fiduciary-defendant. Estate of Gump, 1 Cal.App.4th 582, 601
 22 (1991). There is no allegation that USC had ever been made aware of any complaints 23 of misconduct against Dr. Tyndall to investigate, disclose or otherwise influence its 24 appointment of Dr. Tyndall, prior to the time plaintiff saw him in 1991. See FAC, ¶¶
 25 11-35.

26 Even assuming plaintiff's claim against Dr. Tyndall is the allegation he failed to 27 tell plaintiff that his touching was not a legitimate part of the gynecological
 28 examination, the claim fails for a lack of a factual showing.

XII.

PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE GRANTED FOR INTENTIONAL INFILCTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

In addition to being barred by the statute of limitations, plaintiff has failed to state facts upon which relief for Intentional Infliction of Emotional (IIED) may be granted.

A claim for IIED exists when there is (1) extreme and outrageous conduct by the defendant with the intention of causing, or reckless disregard of the probability of causing, emotional distress; (2) the plaintiff's suffering severe or extreme emotional distress; and (3) actual and proximate causation of the emotional distress by the defendant's outrageous conduct. Potter v. Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., 6 Cal.4th 965, 1001 (1993); Christensen v. Superior Court, 54 Cal.3d 868, 903 (1991). A defendant's conduct is “outrageous” when it is so “extreme as to exceed all bounds of that usually tolerated in a civilized community.” Potter, at 1001. And the defendant's conduct must be “intended to inflict injury or engaged in with the realization that injury will result.” Id.

Liability for intentional infliction of emotional distress does not extend to mere insults, indignities, threats, annoyances, petty oppressions, or other trivialities.

Hughes, supra, 46 Cal.4th 1035, 1051 (finding insufficient to constitute “outrageous conduct,” sexual/romantic advances made to plaintiff by a defendant-trustee who controlled plaintiff’s son’s $350 million trust and telling plaintiff, when she called him “crazy,”: “I’ll get you on your knees eventually. I’m going to fuck you one way or another”).

Plaintiff had one contact with Dr. Tyndall. She has not pled facts showing that the alleged touching of which she complains was inappropriate (she only sensed it was), and the alleged comments Dr. Tyndall purportedly made fall far, far short of that described in Hughes, which comments, though offensive, were found to be insufficient to constitute extreme and outrageous conduct. See, Hughes, supra, 46

Cal.4th at 1051; see also Cornell v. Berkeley Tennis Club, 18 Cal.App.5th 908, 945-46 (2017) (although plaintiff raised a triable issue as to whether she was subjected to harassment based on her obesity, that harassing conduct did not rise to the level of “outrageous conduct beyond the bounds of human decency.”)).

A plaintiff must also show severe emotional distress. The California Supreme Court has set a very high bar by requiring the severe emotional distress must be of such substantial quality or enduring quality that no reasonable [person] in civilized society should be expected to endure it. Hughes, supra, at 1051 (a plaintiff's assertions that she has suffered discomfort, worry, anxiety, upset stomach, concern, and agitation as the result of defendant's comments, held insufficient). Here, plaintiff only conclusorily alleges that she suffered "great pain of mind and body, shock, emotional, distress, physical manifestations of emotional distress, including embarrassment, loss of self-esteem, disgrace, humiliation, and loss of enjoyment of life." Those allegations are not supported by facts showing she suffered emotional distress of such substantial quality or enduring quality that no reasonable person in civilized society should be expected to endure it. Her conclusory allegations are also belied by the fact she waited 27 years to seek any relief based on her alleged injuries.

XIII.

PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE GRANTED FOR NEGLIGENT INFILCTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

At this time, defendant is only challenging this claim based on the statute of limitations bar. Just as with the cause of action for IIED, "serious emotional distress is an essential element of the cause of action for negligent infliction of emotional distress." Bogard v. Emplrs Casualty Co., 164 Cal.App.3d 602, 618 (1985); Kelly v. General Telephone Co., 136 Cal.App.3d 278, 286 (1982). It is inconceivable to assume, that had plaintiff suffered such serious emotional distress as a result of the alleged examination by Dr. Tyndall, she would not have been aware of her injuries, emotional or otherwise, at the time of her examination. And since plaintiff has pled no

1 specific facts showing otherwise, her claims in this regard are without merit.

2 Plaintiff's claim for negligent infliction of emotional distress should be 3 dismissed.

4 XIV.

5 PLAINTIFF FAILS TO STATE FACTS UPON WHICH RELIEF MAY BE
 6 GRANTED FOR UNFAIR BUSINESS PRACTICES, CAL. BUSINESS
 7 AND PROFESSIONS CODE § 17200

8 In addition to this claim be barred by the applicable statute of limitations, 9 plaintiff has failed to state facts upon which relief for unfair business practices may be 10 granted.

11 A plaintiff alleging unfair business practices in violation of Cal. Business and 12 Professions Code § 17200 "must state with reasonably particularity the facts
 13 supporting the statutory elements of the violation." Khoury v. Maly's of Calif., Inc., 14 14 Cal.App.4th 612, 619 (1993). Business and Professions Code § 17200 (Unfair 15 Competition Law ("UCL")), describes unfair competition as including "unlawful,
 16 unfair or fraudulent business practice," which, in turn, has been consistently 17 interpreted by the courts as including "anything that can be called a business practice
 18 and that at the same time is forbidden by law." Samura v. Kaiser Foundation Health
 19 Plan, 17 Cal.App.4th 1284, 1292 (1993); Cel-Tech Comms., Inc. v. Los Angeles
 20 Cellular Tele. Co., 20 Cal.4th 163, 180 (1999). Conduct which is not proscribed by 21 any statute or regulation does not constitute unfair competition. Aleksick v. 7-Eleven, 22 Inc., 205 Cal.App.4th 1176, 1192 (2012) (an unfair competition claim, must be 23 tethered to specific constitutional, statutory or regulatory provisions); Gregory v.
 24 Albertsons, Inc., 104 Cal.App.4th 845, 854 (2002) (same). An action under Section
 25 17200 is not an "all-purpose substitute" for a related tort or contract action. Korea 26 Supply Company v. Lockheed Martin Corp., 29 Cal.4th 1134, 1150 (2003). The 27 primary purpose of Cal. Business and Professions Code § 17200, et seq. is to preserve
 28 fair business competition. Gregory, supra, 104 Cal.App.4th 845, 851.

1 Plaintiff fails to state facts showing that Dr. Tyndall engaged in a business
 2 practice forbidden by law. As explained in the preceding sections, plaintiff has not 3 pled facts establishing a violation of any statutory provision that existed at the time of 4 which plaintiff complains, or, in fact, at all.

5 Standing to bring an action for unfair competition also requires the plaintiff to 6 show actual injury occurred, and a loss of money or property resulted as a
 7 consequence of the unfair competition. Cal. Business & Profession Code § 17204;
 8 Birdsong v. Apple, Inc., 590 F.3d 955, 960 \(9th Cir. 2009\). Plaintiff has failed to 9 establish any economic loss was incurred by her as a result of any alleged unlawful 10 business practice in which Dr. Tyndall engaged. FAC, ¶¶ 221-222.

11 XV.

12 PUNITIVE DAMAGES PLED IN A COMPLAINT WITHOUT COMPLYING
 13 WITH CAL. CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE § 425.13 MAY BE DISMISSED

14 A. Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 425.13 Requires Plaintiff to Obtain
 15 Leave of Court to Plead Punitive Damages Against This Health Care Provider
 16 Defendant.

17 Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 425.13 requires leave of court before a plaintiff 18 may plead punitive damages against a health care provider "arising out of" the 19 "professional negligence." Identifying a cause of action as an "intentional tort" as 20 opposed to "negligence" does not itself remove the claim from the requirements of 21 Section 425.13. A cause of action against a health care provider is governed by 22 Section 425.13, when the injury arose out of the manner in which professional 23 services are provided.

24 "[\[S\]ection 425.13\(a\)](#) applies regardless of whether the complaint purports to state 25 a single cause of action for an intentional tort or also states a cause of action for 26 professional negligence. The clear intent of the Legislature behind its enactment of 27 Section 425.13 is that any claim for punitive damages in an action against a health care
 28 provider be subject to the statute if the injury that is the basis for the claim was caused

1 by conduct that was directly related to the rendition of professional services." Central
 2 Pathology Srvc. Med. Clnc., Inc. v. Superior Court, 3 Cal.4th 181, 192 (1992). The 3 nature and cause of a plaintiff's injury must be examined to determine whether each is 4 directly related to the manner in which professional services were provided. Id.

5 A plaintiff's claim for fraud and intentional infliction of emotional distress, when 6 arising out of the rendition of professional service, for example, are subject to Code
 7 Civ. Proc., § 425.13, subd. (a). Central Pathology, supra, 3 Cal.4th at 192-193.
 8 Likewise, a claim for sexual battery by a gynecologist also arises out of the rendition
 9 of professional service and is subject to Section 425.13. In finding Section 425.13
 10 applied to a claim for sexual battery, the Court in Cooper, supra, 56 Cal.App.4th 744, 11 found: "A doctor rendering gynecological care cannot render the full panoply of 12 gynecological services without touching, probing or otherwise manipulating a woman's 13 genitalia; thus, when a gynecologist is accused, ..., of committing a sexual battery in the 14 course of rendering gynecological services, that accusation is necessarily 'directly 15 related' to the manner in which the gynecological services were rendered." Id., at 751.

16 Plaintiff's allegations against Dr. Tyndall are directly related to the manner in 17 which he provided gynecological services – everything was done in the course and 18 scope of a gynecological examination. Compl., ¶¶ 1-6.

19 B. Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 425.13 Applies in Federal Court.

20 All causes of action asserted against Dr. Tyndall are based on California law.
 21 The only basis for federal jurisdiction is the claim brought under Title IX, which is not 22 asserted against Dr. Tyndall and would not apply to him in any event. See Lipsett v.
 23 Univ. of Puerto Rico, 864 F.2d 881, 901 (1st Cir. 1988); Doe v. Petaluma City Sch.
 24 Dist., 830 F.Supp. 1560, 1577 (N.D.Cal. 1993);⁵ Clemes v. Del Norte Co. Unified Sch.

25
 26 ⁵In reversing on other grounds, the Ninth Circuit in Doe by & Through Doe v.
Petaluma City Sch. Dist., 54 F.3d 1447 (9th Cir.t 1995), the Ninth Circuit accepted the 27 District Court's holding that a employee of an educational institution may not be held 28 liable under Title IX and analyzed whether the employee may be held liable under any 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Doe by & Through Doe, at 1449. Because there is no allegation and no basis for believing Dr. Tyndall was acting under the color of law, as a physician at a

Dist., 1994 U.S.Dist.LEXIS 8625, *13 (N.D.Cal. 1994). Accordingly, all of plaintiff's claims against Dr. Tyndall are based on supplemental jurisdiction. 28 U.S.C.S. § 1367; see also FAC, ¶ 38.

The Ninth Circuit has stated that when a district court sits in diversity, or hears state law claims based on supplemental jurisdiction, the court applies state substantive law to the state law claims. Mason and Dixon Intermodal, Inc. v. Lapmaster Int'l LLC, 632 F.3d 1056, 1060 (9th Cir. 2011); Shekarlab v. County of Sacramento, 2018 U.S.Dist.LEXIS 70579, *4 (E.D. Cal. 2018). Jurisdiction under the Class Action Fairness Act is a form of diversity jurisdiction. See 28 U.S.C.S. § 1332(d); Leon v. Gordon Trucking, Inc., 76 F.Supp.3d 1055, 1060 (C.D.Cal. 2014); Hankins v. Pfizer, Inc., 2005 U.S.Dist.LEXIS 17191, *2 (C.D.Cal. 2005).

Federal courts deciding state claims apply state substantive law and, generally, federal procedural law. See Hanna v. Plumer, 380 U.S. 460 (1965) (describing the impact of Erie R. Co. v. Tompkins, 304 U.S. 64 (1938)). Over the years, however, it has become clear "that Erie-type problems [are] not to be solved by reference to any traditional or common-sense substance-procedure distinction[.]" Id. at 465-466. Instead the crucial question is: "does it significantly affect the result of a litigation for a federal court to disregard a law of a State that would be controlling in an action upon the same claim by the same parties in a State court?" Id. (quoting Guaranty Trust Co. of N.Y. v. York, 326 U.S. 99 (1945)).

Federal courts embark on a two-part inquiry to decide whether a state procedural rule should apply in a given case. First, the court will ask whether there is a direct conflict between a federal rule and the state law. *Shekarlab, supra, at 4, citing Walker v. Armco Steel Corp., 446 U.S. 740, 749-752 (1980). If there is a conflict and the Federal Rule clearly applies, then the court will follow the Federal Rule unless it falls outside the scope of the Rules Enabling Act or the constitutional private institution, Section 1983 would be inapplicable to him. Adams v. Southern California First Nat'l Bank, 492 F.2d 324, 329 (9th Cir. 1973).

1 grant of power. *Shekarlab, supra, at 4, citing Walker, supra, at 748. If there is no a
 2 conflict, the court then considers whether application of the state procedural rule
 3 might result in forum shopping or an inequitable administration of the law. Shekarlab,
 4 *supra, at 4; Walker, supra, at 753. “The Ninth Circuit has also held that ‘where a 5 state evidentiary rule is intimately bound up with the rights and obligations being 6 asserted, [Erie] mandates the application of the state rule.’” *Shekarlab, supra, at 4-5, 7 quoting Wray v. Gregory, 61 F.3d 1414, 1417 (9th Cir. 1995).

8 Federal courts sitting in California applying Section 425.13 have either found it
 9 to be "intimately bound" to state substantive law and therefore a substantive, not a 10 procedural, rule, or found the plaintiff's punitive damages claims largely arise under 11 state law and that state law should therefore apply. Elias v. Nvasartian, 2017 U.S.
 12 Dist. LEXIS 23229, *16 (E.D.Cal. 2017); citing e.g., Thomas v. Hickman, 2006 U.S.
 13 Dist. LEXIS 72988, *41 (E.D. Cal. 2006) (finding Section 425.13 intimately bound to 14 the state substantive causes of action for professional negligence); Rhodes v. Placer
 15 Cnty., 2011 U.S. Dist.LEXIS 35498, *21 (E.D. Cal. 2011), adopted, 2011 U.S.Dist.
 16 LEXIS 47894 (E.D. Cal. 2011) (§ 425.13 is applicable because plaintiff's punitive 17 damages claims arise from state law claims); see also Allen v. Woodford, 2006
 18 U.S.Dist.LEXIS 45254, *62-67 (E.D.Cal. 2006) (finding that because plaintiff's 19 punitive damage claim was brought under state, not federal law, and was so
 20 "intimately bound up" with the substantive law of the underlying state claim, Section 21 425.13 must be applied).

22 In contrast, district courts in the Northern and Southern District of California
 23 have declined to apply Section 425.13, finding it to be a procedural rather than a
 24 substantive one. *Shekarlab, supra, at 6, citing e.g., Jackson v. East Bay Hosp., 980
 25 F.Supp. 1341, 1352 (N.D.Cal. 1997); George v. Sonoma Cnty. Sheriff's Dept., 732
 26 F.Supp.2d 922, 951-52 (N.D.Cal. 2010) (following Jackson); Ortegoza v. Kho, 2013
 27 U.S.Dist.LEXIS 69999, *7 (S.D.Cal. 2013) (same). Two courts in the Eastern District
 28 also declined to apply Section 425.13, finding the statute to be in direct conflict with

1 the plain meaning of FRCP, Rule 8\(a\)\(3\). See Estate of Prasad v. County of Sutter,
 2 958 F. Supp. 2d 1101, 1121 \(E.D.Cal. 2013\); Padilla v. Beard, 2014 U.S.Dist.LEXIS
 3 159377, *27-29 \(E.D.Cal. 2014\).

4 The Ninth Circuit has not resolved the conflict between the districts.

5 In the most recent decision on this issue, Shekarlab, supra, 2018 U.S. Dist.
 6 LEXIS 70579, the court analyzed the factors in favor of and against applying Section
 7 425.13 in federal court, and the various differing district court opinions on the issue.
 8 The Court ultimately found Section 425.13 to be intimately bound to state substantive
 9 law and therefore a substantive, and not a procedural rule. *Id., at 9-10 (Section 10 425.13 evinces a legislative intent "to screen and assure the bona fides and merits of a 11 claim against a health care provider before a case can be filed"). The Shekarlab Court
 12 was not persuaded that the federal courts' authority to manage their own calendars
 13 obviates the propriety of respecting this legislative balancing in federal court.
 14 "Without the rule, prayers for punitive damages that lack evidentiary support remain
 15 in a lawsuit until defendants move for summary judgment or adjudication. This result 16 could cause the sort of forum shopping and inequitable administration of the law that 17 the Erie doctrine was designed to prevent." *Id., at * 10-11*, citing Walker, supra, 446
 18 U.S. at 753.

19 The Shekarlab court found no direct conflict between Section 425.13 and 20 federal rules. The Court found persuasive the observation in Jones v. Krautheim, 208
 21 F.Supp.2d 1173 \(D.Colo. 2002\), that "[i]n practical use, [FRCP] Rule 8 does not and 22 cannot operate in isolation, but instead must be considered in conjunction with Rule 23 15, which anticipates liberal amendment of pleadings throughout the course of the 24 litigation... So long as a plaintiff has the opportunity to amend the initial complaint to 25 comply with Rule 8\(a\)\(3\) before the issues are ultimately tried, there is no practical 26 conflict between [the state statute] and Fed. R. Civ. P. 8\(a\)\(3\)." Shekarlab, supra, 27 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 70579, *7, quoting Jones, supra, at 1178. "The federal 28 pleading rule does not require that every type of relief sought be included in the

1 complaint in its first iteration. The Rules provide for pre-trial amendments of the 2 complaint, which district courts freely permit upon a plaintiff's motion or, at later
 3 stages of litigation, grant for good cause. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 15 & 16. A plaintiff can 4 therefore follow the mandate of Section 425.13 consistent with the Federal Rules.”
 5 *Shekarlab, supra, at 8.

6 Because plaintiff's punitive damages claim against Dr. Tyndall arises solely 7 from state law and is directly related to the manner in which Dr. Tyndall provided
 8 professional services, plaintiff was required to petition the court for leave to plead
 9 punitive damages pursuant to Section 425.13. Because plaintiff failed to do so, her 10 claim for punitive damages should be dismissed.

11 XVI.

12 CONCLUSION

13 Plaintiff's FAC and each claim asserted therein is barred by the applicable
 14 limitations period, whether the applicable limitations period is one-year, two-years,
 15 three-years or four-years. The alleged conduct of which plaintiff complains occurred 16 27 years ago. The FAC shows on its face that plaintiff was aware of the conduct of 17 which she complains and was aware of her alleged injuries at the time they occurred
 18 27 years ago. She is not entitled to restart the clock because of “recurrences” of 19 injuries brought on by being reminded of them through some news article published in 20 2018.

21 Plaintiff is also asserting claims based on statutes which did not exist at the 22 times of which she complains, and further fails to state facts upon which relief may be 23 granted under these statutes. Plaintiff also fails to state facts upon which relief may be 24 granted under any of her non-statutory theories pled as well.

25 Finally, plaintiff was required to, but did not, seek leave of court before
 26 pleading a claim for punitive damages, which requires this claim to be dismissed 27 and/or stricken.

28 For these reasons, dismissal of plaintiff's First Amended Complain is

1 appropriate. Because plaintiff's claims are clearly barred by the applicable
2 limitations period and that fatality cannot be cured by any amendment, dismissal
3 without leave to amend is appropriate.
